Dining Out

At OPTAVIA, we believe you can live the best life possible, and we know that requires a healthy you. We also know that there will be times when you are out with friends and family and need to make healthy eating decisions. This guide will empower you to make healthier choices, whether you are dining out, picking up take-out after a busy day, or taking part in a special occasion. OPTAVIA's Registered Dietitian Nutritionists evaluated the menus of sit-down and fast-food restaurants and have selected items that fit the nutritional profile of the lean and green meal, so you can stay on track—whether you're losing weight or maintaining your healthy weight.

This guide also provides tips to help keep you on your path to Optimal Health and Wellbeing while enjoying life. Each menu item is broken down into categories: Lean, Leaner, Leanest, Green and Healthy Fats. You may notice that the breakdowns don't always match the recommendations on the Lean Options and Green Options lists. This is because the breakdown was determined based on a thorough evaluation of the nutrition information, including the calorie, fat, carbohydrate, protein, and sodium content.

Remember: While this guide is designed to help you when you eat out, be sure you're doing so two or less times per week for a healthier life. Cooking healthy meals at home is another positive way to bond with friends and family!

Lean and Green Basics

When you dine out, use the lean and green meal guidelines to guide your choices, particularly for menu items not included here.

The Lean

Look for protein choices such as boneless, skinless chicken breast, fish, or lean cuts of beef and pork. The USDA lists over 29 cuts of lean beef, and five—eye of round, sirloin tip, top round, bottom round, and top sirloin—are considered extra lean (5g of fat or fewer for 3.5 oz., lean cuts are double). Chicken breasts (white meat) have fewer calories than thighs (dark meat).

The Green

Fill up on non-starchy vegetables such as green leafy vegetables (e.g. endive, lettuce, or raw spinach), asparagus, cauliflower, broccoli, and tomatoes. You will want to choose a total of three servings of any combination of lower, moderate, or higher carbohydrate vegetables as outlined on the Green Options list.

Healthy Fats and Condiments

- Order your food naked, with sauces, dressings, and toppings on the side.
- Ask that your food be prepared without extra butter or oil.
- Be mindful of the condiments you use; they can add extra calories, sugar, and fat.

Throughout this guide, assume that salad options listed are without croutons and dressings, unless otherwise noted.

Beverages

Follow the recommended beverage guidelines. Plain water is always appropriate; spruce it up with a lemon wedge and ice or your favorite Flavor Infuser. Stick to calorie-free beverages, like diet soda, unsweetened tea, coffee, sparkling water, or sodium-free seltzer.

Alcohol

OPTAVIA does not recommend the use of alcohol for people in the weight-loss phase of the program, especially if you have diabetes.

Not only does alcohol add empty calories, it promotes dehydration and can decrease inhibitions, lessening one's resistance to the temptation of ordering unhealthy food. Further, alcohol's effects on those following a reduced-calorie meal plan may be felt more rapidly and may increase the possibility of the related side effects of alcohol consumption.

If you choose to drink an alcoholic beverage, choose wisely.

- Select a plain liquor with a zero-calorie mixer or chaser (vodka or clear rum and diet soda, gin and soda water or diet tonic, etc.).
- Avoid drinks like margaritas, daiquiris, piña coladas with loads of calories and sugar.
- Drink a glass of water in between each alcoholic beverage you consume to slow you down and fill you up.
- Never skip an OPTAVIA Fueling or portion of the lean and green meal to allow yourself extra alcohol calories.
- Alcohol should accompany a meal, especially for people with diabetes, who could suffer hypoglycemic episodes as a result of a reduced-calorie diet and some medications for diabetes.
- Adjust meal choices when selecting alcoholic beverages.
 Choose lower-carb veggies, and leaner protein choices.
 Eliminate all other optional condiments, snacks, and infusers during the weight-loss phase of the program.

Tips to Keep You on Track

Before Dining Out

Be prepared

When you know what optimal nutrition looks like, healthy eating becomes second nature. When a spontaneous dining opportunity present itself, you will know just what to do. Ask yourself:

- What will I do if someone gives me a hard time about my choices?
- What will I do if I've never been to this restaurant before?
- What will I do if they have my favorite dish/dessert?

By mentally "walking yourself through" the situations you're likely to encounter at the restaurant, you'll be better prepared to handle them with confidence. With a little preparation, dining out is enjoyable and stress free

Research menus

Most restaurants have menus online and some even publish the nutrition information of their dishes. If there's no information online and the eatery is close, consider stopping in for an advance peek.

Looking over the offerings in advance lets you take your time and make careful, healthy choices. You'll know what to order once you're seated without feeling rushed or self-conscious. If you can't find something that's appropriate for your phase of the program, ask!

Many restaurants are willing to accommodate simple requests for something within the lean and green meal guidelines.

Just as you would not think twice about ordering something special for someone with food allergies or other dietary needs, you should feel confident about inquiring about healthy choices. Remember, feeling great about your healthy choices is the goal.

Pick good companions

Sometimes who you eat with is almost as important as where you dine. The first few times you eat in a restaurant after starting your OPTAVIA journey be sure your companions are supportive of you and your endeavors. Soon, you'll be comfortable enough to make the right choices, no matter the company.

During the Meal

Eat mindfully

Bring all of your senses to the table. Take in the aroma of the food, notice the texture of the food on your tongue, and really taste your meal. Experience each bite from start to finish. It typically takes the stomach 15 to 20 minutes to signal the brain that you've had enough food. Get the most out of every bite by eating slowly, and give yourself a chance to notice when you're full.

Watch your thinking

Our inner dialogue can get us into trouble when we experience worry that refusing food or drinks will offend someone or call attention to ourselves in a negative way. Likewise, you might tell yourself that if you have one bite of dessert, it's all over and you've blown it.

Try questioning the helpfulness of those types of thoughts. Ask yourself:

- Is this thought in any way useful or helpful?
- Does this thought help me take effective action towards my health?
- Does this thought help me to be who I want to be?

If a thought is deemed unhelpful, let it go. After all, these are just thoughts, and not some command you have to obey or rule you have to follow. They can be allowed to come and go of their own accord without any need for you to hold on to them, push them away, or obey their command

Be assertive

If someone pressures you to eat something you know isn't in line with your health goals, stand up for yourself. You have the right to be heard and don't have to apologize or explain yourself to anyone. You can respectfully communicate your wishes, thoughts, and feelings and not have to feel at the mercy of anyone who doesn't understand. You can say, "Thanks, but no thanks: I'm completely committed to healthy eating right now."

Dealing with Any Urges

Breathe Deep

One of the easiest and most powerful ways to handle an unhealthy eating urge is to stop and take a few deep, cleansing breaths. Close your eyes and concentrate on slowly filling and emptying your lungs as your mind quiets down and you reboot your awareness. Open your eyes and continue enjoying yourself.

Engage in the conversation

If you're thinking obsessively about the food, switch gears. Try focusing on the conversation, being completely "in the moment" with your dining companions; ask questions, listen intently, and show them you're listening by reflecting back what they're saying. This is not only a good way to take your mind off food but also an excellent way to practice good communication skills!

Talk it out

Talking about your urges to eat with your OPTAVIA Coach or someone who understands can provide relief. It is not a sign of weakness or failure to have these feelings from time to time. Plus, your Coach can give you valuable support as you stick to healthy choices. No matter what you are facing, your Coach has likely been in your very same shoes and can help steer you to success.

"Urge Surf"

If you don't feel comfortable talking it out and you can't take your mind off of food, then you can try opening up to those thoughts. A food craving is like an ocean wave. It builds, crests, crashes gently onto shore, and then fades away into the sand. As compelling as the urge is, it's temporary: If you can allow it to just be there and let it run its course, you'll find the feeling passes within a few minutes.

If All Else Fails...

Remember that you are on a journey to lifelong transformation, one healthy habit at a time. One slip-up or ill-advised indulgence will not ruin your chances of long-term Optimal Health and Wellbeing. If you fall off the wagon, treat yourself with compassion, reframe the experience as a learning opportunity, and get back on track right away. The idea is to prevent an unhealthy decision from becoming a complete relapse into old, unhealthy eating habits.

Healthy Celebrations

When You're a Guest

Pay attention

When you're at a gathering, there are hundreds of distractions that can take your mind off of what and how much you're eating. In an instant you can look down and realize your plate is suddenly empty! The best strategy for continued weight control is to stay mindful and focused when you are interacting with food and drink, and ensure that you're making choices in the best interest of your healthy goals.

Don't go hungry

Eating small, regular meals on the day of your event can help you stay full and energized so you're less likely to eat something on impulse. Bring your favorite OPTAVIA Fueling with you to the event, or plan to have your lean and green meal there.

Control your portions

If you're served a larger-than-necessary portion at a sit-down event, push the extra amount to the side of your plate and stop when you've eaten an appropriate amount. At a buffet, choose a small plate and stick to right-sized servings of lean proteins and non-starchy vegetables. Once you've finished, move away from the food and enjoy a lively conversation or the company of those around you.

Search out the healthy

Just about every party has healthy food. Lean roasted meats, shrimp cocktail without sauce, raw veggies, and leafy greens are some good examples. For beverages, bring your favorite Flavor Infuser to drink with water, or stick with calorie-free soda, sparkling water, sugar-free iced tea, or coffee.

Rethink your drink

Alcoholic beverages are loaded with empty calories, and should be avoided on the OPTAVIA Program. If you do choose to have an alcoholic beverage, select a plain liquor with a zero-calorie mixer. Better yet, skip the alcohol altogether and volunteer to be a designated driver: Your friends (and your health) will appreciate it.

Bring your own

If you're attending a potluck, picnic, or tailgate party, bring a lean and green-style dish that everyone will enjoy. Visit OPTAVIA's Pinterest page for healthy party favorites!

Feed your spirit and your relationships

Social gatherings strengthen bonds between people, and food doesn't have to take center stage. Engage in good conversations and concentrate on really getting to know someone. Over the holidays, plan non-food-based activities like volunteering, attending parades, kids' arts and crafts, and sports activities. You'll appreciate new traditions and make lasting memories to cherish.

Inspire others

If being unhealthy has caused you to avoid the spotlight at social events in the past, you can find yourself a little nervous about joining the party. People may notice your positive changes in both appearance and attitude. Relax and enjoy the chance to model healthy behaviors such as wise nutrition choices. When you succeed, your transformation will be an inspiration to others. Share with others how OPTAVIA has helped you create space for the life you want.

When You're the Host or Hostess

Modify your favorites

You don't have to give up traditional party favorites when you can make healthier versions of them. For example, mashed cauliflower makes for a tasty alternative to mashed potatoes, and baked buffalo cauliflower "wings" can spice up any tailgate or barbecue.

Be leery of leftovers

When you're cleaning up, delegate the task of packaging leftovers to someone else while you wash dishes, sweep up, or take out the trash. Send cake, pie, and extra goodies home with friends, or take them into the office for co-workers. For healthy items, portion them out into readymade lean and green meal portions and refrigerate or freeze them to save you time later.

Focus on your non-favorites

If you're preparing a party dessert, make it something that's easier for you to resist. For example, if your weakness is chocolate, go with a fruit-based treat. Keep your favorite sweet Fueling, like the OPTAVIA Chocolate Mint Cookie Crisp Bar, within reach for when your sweet tooth strikes!

Healthy Ideas for Specific Cuisines

The information found in this section is ideal for the weight maintenance phase of the OPTAVIA program; these suggestions are not necessarily adherent to the lean and green meal guidelines. During the weight loss phase, stick to the lean and green meal guidelines as much as possible (5-7 ounces of cooked lean protein, 3 servings of non-starchy vegetables, and 0-2 servings of healthy fats) and refer to the specific recommended options listed in the restaurant section of this guide.
